

Outsourcing IT: gamechanger for growing businesses

Outsourcing IT provides businesses with many benefits, including the ability to save money without compromising the integrity of the existing IT infrastructure.

For many companies, handing over this vital aspect of business operations offers a welcome respite. You can focus fully on other critical business functions, such as marketing, manufacturing and customer services; all while knowing your IT operations are running smoothly and in the best possible hands.

What are the main benefits of IT outsourcing?

Expert support

IT outsourcing offers you the support of experienced engineers who can help prevent, as well as intervene to fix, any issues that may occur.

Tailored to your needs

IT outsourcing offers businesses flexible support that can be uniquely tailored to your individual requirements. Whether that's remote monitoring of your IT systems, or support when your primary team is indisposed or on leave. IT outsourcing help you provide business as usual.

Cost saving

Outsourced IT teams can be retained for a set fixed fee, which often costs less than directly hiring employees in-house. Procuring new hardware and software is also cheaper for businesses via an outsourced IT company, as these organisations have access to competitive trade pricing structures, not available on the open market.

Experience

As IT processes continue to evolve, and cyber security risks become ever smarter, it can be hard for internal teams to stay up to date on the latest industry best practice and training. Outsourcing your IT means you always have a team of experienced professionals working on behalf of your business, all of whom are proficient in today's IT systems.

Competitive advantage

With in-depth technical knowledge and visibility across a variety of industry sectors, working with an external IT provider offers your business a strong competitive advantage. Not only can outsourced teams help with day-to-day efficiency, they can also contribute to long-term strategy, providing key operational insight in the same capacity as a senior IT professional (for a fraction of the cost).

Book your FREE IT outsourcing assessment

At Dragon IS we think IT outsourcing should be transparent and easy, with flexible pricing and support agents who speak in plain language, not tech-jargon. That's why we offer all new clients a free IT assessment.

Designed to identify where outsourced IT support can help your business achieve its commercial outcomes, the assessment comes with no obligation to instruct our services. So, whether you choose to work with us or not, you'll still come away with a full picture of your business' current IT health.
